Welcome to the inaugural issue of Jurnal Pengabdian Pancasila (JPP), a scholarly publication dedicated to the study and application of Pancasila values in community service, social development, and national advancement. Rooted in the foundational philosophy of Indonesia, JPP serves as a platform for academics, practitioners, and policymakers to share research, best practices, and innovative approaches that promote the implementation of Pancasila principles in various aspects of society.

The journal emphasizes the importance of community engagement, civic responsibility, and social empowerment in fostering a just and prosperous nation. Our scope covers a wide range of topics, including but not limited to education, social welfare, economic empowerment, environmental sustainability, and governance each analyzed through the lens of Pancasila's core values: belief in the Almighty, humanity, unity, democracy, and social justice.

In this first issue, we are pleased to present a selection of articles that highlight meaningful contributions to society, reflecting the spirit of dedication and service. Each manuscript has undergone a rigorous peer-review process to ensure the highest academic quality and relevance. We believe that the insights shared in this issue will inspire further discourse, research, and action in promoting Pancasila as a guiding force for community development.

We extend our sincere gratitude to the authors, reviewers, and editorial team who have contributed their time, expertise, and passion to making this journal a reality. Their collective efforts have helped lay the foundation for Jurnal Pengabdian Pancasila (JPP) as a valuable resource for scholars and practitioners alike.

We invite readers to engage with the content of this journal, share their perspectives, and contribute to future editions. May this publication serve as a bridge between academic research and practical implementation, strengthening our collective commitment to upholding the values of Pancasila in building a better society.

Happy reading
